From the Pastor,

We now have a number of parishioners from the African country of Burundi. They are refugees who have been settled here in Boise. Those who attend the 11 o'clock Mass have heard them sing at Mass and have met them. I hate to admit that most of us know very little about Burundi so the next few weeks I will devote my column in the Bulletin to writing about the country, its history, and our new families.

A good place to start is by finding Burundi on the map. As you can see from the maps shown below, Burundi, officially the "Republic of Burundi," is in the southern part of Africa. Burundi is surrounded by the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Rwanda, and Tanzania, with a large portion of it's western border being adjacent to Lake Tanganyika. The country's modern name is a derivative of its Bantu language, Kirundi.

Look for more information about Burundi, its history and its people (in particular our refugee families) in future bulletins.

Peace, Father Tom Faucher, Pastor

Del Pastor,

Tenemos ahora un buen número de parroquianos del país africano de Burundi. Son refugiados que se han establecido aquí en Boise. Los que asisten a la misa de las 11 de la mañana los han escuchado cantar y los conocen. Odio admitir que la mayoría de nosotros sabe muy poco de Burundi así que, en las próximas semanas, voy a dedicar mi espacio aquí en el boletín para escribir sobre Burundi, su historia y nuestras nuevas familias.

Empecemos por encontrar a Burundi en el mapa. Como pueden ver en los mapas que se incluyen, Burundi, oficialmente "La República de Burundi", está en la parte sur de África. Burundi colinda con La República Democrática del Congo, Ruanda y Tanzania; y una larga porción al oeste, colinda con el lago Tanganica. El nombre actual del país se deriva de su idioma bantú, kirundi.

Busquen más información respecto a Burundi, su historia y su gente (en particular nuestras familias de refugiados) en los boletines siguientes.

Paz, Padre Tom Faucher, Párroco

En el acontecimiento de Pentecostés (considerado como el "lanzamiento" oficial de la Iglesia por la fuerza del Espíritu Santo), encuentro yo el mejor retrato de la Iglesia: una misma fe proclamada en diferentes voces (lenguas). La Iglesia nació bajo el signo de la pluralidad de lenguas. Hasta donde sabemos, los apóstoles usaron el arameo, el hebreo y el griego para proclamar el mensaje de Jesús. Sin embargo, el primer problema serio que se presentó fue un asunto cultural, en forma de la pregunta: ¿quienes no son judíos tienen que aceptar primero la cultura judía para poder ser cristianos? Esto motivó el primer concilio ecuménico de Jerusalén. La respuesta que surgió de ahí fue: No. El evangelio tiene que ser predicado usando los elementos y símbolos de la cultura a la que se le está predicando. Pablo, que era bilingüe y bicultural, fue escogido directamente por Cristo para esta tarea. Por eso cuando hablamos de evangelización, estamos hablando también de inculturación. La Iglesia enseña que una evangelización que no produce una fe inculturada, no es verdadera evangelización. Este es el gran mensaje que encierra la imagen de Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe. Toda ella encierra el mensaje cristiano en signos y símbolos de las culturas nativas de Mesoamérica. Por eso los pueblos nativos de lo que ahora es México y Centroamérica entendieron y aceptaron el mensaje cristiano. En nuestro esfuerzo por continuar construyendo nuestra comunidad aquí en Santa María, debemos poner especial atención a la culturas presentes con sus tradiciones, símbolos y maneras de entender y expresar la fe católica.

Su amigo y servidor, Padre Jesús Camacho

In the Event of Pentecost (considered the Church's official "launching" by the force of the Holy Spirit), I find the Church's best portrait: the same faith, proclaimed in different voices (languages). The Church was born under the sign of language plurality. As far as we know, the apostles used Aramaic, Hebrew and Greek to proclaim Jesus' message. However, the first serious problem they had was a cultural matter posed in a form of a question: "Should non-Jews first accept the Jewish culture in order to become Christian?" This question motivated the first Ecumenical Council of Jerusalem. The response that came from this council was: "No." The gospel has to be preached using the symbols and elements of the culture in which it is preached. Paul, who was bilingual and bicultural, was chosen directly by Christ for this task. So when we talk about evangelization, we are also talking about inculturation. The Church teaches that evangelization which doesn't produce an inculturated faith is not true evangelization. This is the big message that is encapsulated in the image of Our Lady of Guadalupe. Her total image represents a Christian message in the signs and symbols of Meso-American native cultures. That is why the native people of what now is Mexico and Central America understood and accepted the Christian message. In our own effort to continue building our community here at Saint Mary's, we should pay special attention to the current cultures in our parish along with their traditions, symbols and ways to understand and express their Catholic faith.

Your friend and servant, Fr. Jesús Camacho
